BRUTAL ASSAULT ON JNO. WICKS.

Six Men Take Him Out And Beat Him With Sticks.

AT WM. WEST'S HOUSE.

Forced to Leave in the Night
Time for Hopkinsville
Under Threats.

John W. Wicks, a tobacco buyer of this city, was assaulted by six men near Pilot Rock Wednesday night and severely beaten with a stick and threatened with death if he returned to the neighborhood.

Mr. Wicks was staying the night at the house of William West, an independent farmer, and the men came about 12:30 o'clock and knocked loudly at the door. The house was a small one and the noise soon aroused Mr. and Mrs. West and Mr. Wicks. They called "Wicks! Wicks!" and when West went to the door after they had threatened to break it down, they told him they did not want him but wanted Wicks. Mr. Wicks went to the door and two of them shoved shot guns against his sides, while a third grabbed him and pulled him out in his night clothes. They refused to let him get his clothes but ordered West to go to the stable and bring "Wicks' horse." Mrs. West went with her husband, being almost overcome with fear and excitement. While they were gone Wicks was allowed to put on his clothes. Then they blind-folded him and led him and his horse some distance from the house and after making him remove his overcoat and hat they proceeded to assault him in a brutal manner with a stick. Two of them in turn wielded the stick, striking him in all thirty or more blows. His body was bruised and the skin abraded in some places.

He was cursed and abused and ordered to leave for Hopkinsville, after threats that he would be hanged if he came to the neighborhood again.

All of the gang were masked and on foot. They evidently lived in the vicinity where the outrage occurred.

The cowardly nature of the outrage can be appreciated when it is known that Mr. Wicks is a man of slight and frail physique, and is 57 years of age. He was unarmed and is a man of genial nature, inoffensive in the extreme and is a kind-hearted and peaceful citizen. He has for many years been a tobacco buyer for Tandy & Fairleigh. He was born and raised in that section of the county, but has lived here for a number of years.

Steps have been taken to get a reward of $500 offered by the governor and $200 by the county judge for the apprehension of each of the guilty parties.

HORSEMEN FROM POND RIVER PARADE THE STREETS THURSDAY

Marched to Town In a Body and Held a Meeting at the Court House, Which Was Addressed By Judge W. T. Fowler and Others.

THERE WERE 137 IN THE LINE OF MARCH

Declared Their Purposes to Be Peaceful—Resolutions Presented to Tobacco Buyers and Both Sides Give Mutual Assurances.

Hopkinsville was visited by a body of farmers from the northeastern part of the county Thursday. They mobilized at the Greenville road bridge and came into town about 11 o'clock. News had preceded them that they were coming and a good crowd was on the streets when they arrived, but there was no excitement apparent. The farmers marched out Campbell street, two abreast, thence across Eighteenth to Main and down Main to Fourth, where the party disbanded and went to various stables to put up their horses.

There were 116 on horseback and 21 in eleven buggies bringing up the rear. The riders were nearly all from Christian county and many of them called to friends on the street at they passed. It appeared to be a good natured and entirely harmless crowd.

At the head of the cascade route County Assessor Henry C. Helsley, County chairman of the American Society of Equity, and George W. Barnes, a merchant at Carl, who is the Bluff Springs district committeeman of the Planters' association. Both are prominent Republican politicians of the northeastern part of the county. Of the 137 men and boys in line about 30, according to a statement of one of the men in line, were members of the society of equity. The rest belonged to the organization.

Many of the riders were on mules and some had sacks of corn across their saddles. They rode close together and made no hostile demonstration. As soon as they disbanded they arranged for a meeting at the courthouse at one o'clock.

The Public Meeting.

They were a little late in assembling, but about 150 were on hand by 1:20, some having come in who did not ride in the parade. About 100 spectators also swelled the crowd.

Geo. W. Barnes called the meeting to order and nominated H. C. Helsley for chairman. He was elected by a show of hands. On motion F. B. McCown, who had not been in the parade, was made secretary.

Mr. Helsley made a very conservative speech. He said the object of the meeting was altogether peaceful.

They desired to appoint a committee to wait upon the tobacco buyers and request them not to buy any tobacco pledged to either association.

That they came as good citizens, opposed to night riding and violence at night, such as burning barns, whipping men or adding to the burdens of poor men.

That they believed in going to the fountain head and having a business understanding.

He said they believed the farmers should organize, as all other lines of business were organized for mutual protection, that they should all stand together as one man.

He reiterated the purpose of the meeting and said that after they had asked the buyers not to buy any tobacco or to receive it if their agents bought it, they were ready to return peacefully to their homes.

That he said "all this movement is for," We have been informed that some buyers have been down in our country trying to buy tobacco that was signed up.

We don't want this done, but we don't want to harm anyone or do any violence of any kind.

Rev. T. T. Powell.

Rev. T. T. Powell, a Baptist minister, of Barnes, was called on and made a brief talk along the same lines. He said the men were not in town with any ill feeling, but to make a simple request. That most of them were farmers, depending on their crops for a living. He said he had heard that some people feared they would do damage at night, but everybody intended to go home and no fear need be entertained (applause) Continuing he said:

"I am not a night rider, though I do a good deal of riding at night. I had to ride some distance last night to marry a couple. That's the only kind I do."

W. T. Fowler.

Judge Fowler being called for responded in a most conciliatory speech. He expressed his pleasure that the company's purposes were so peaceful and counseled wisdom, conservatism and above all a rigid observance of the law in all they did.

He said they had the right as citizens to meet and make a petition in an orderly manner, but any intimidation would be unlawful and he was sure they would do nothing of that kind.

Resolutions Adopted

The following committeemen were appointed to wait on the tobacco men: H. C. Helsley, J. T. Lile, M. Dukes, G. W. Barnes, G. B. Powell, T. T. Powell and F. B. McCown.

The following resolution was adopted, after which the meeting adjourned:

To Tandy & Fairleigh, the Imperial Tobacco Co., and all other Tobacco Dealers, Buyers and Brokers, Contractors and Agents doing business in Hopkinsville, Ky.—

Whereas, if your agents and employees have gone among the members of the American Society of Equity and the members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association of various sections of Christian county and have, by misrepresentation and falsifying, induced such members to sell to them and to you their respective crops of tobacco which had been heretofore pledged to said associations, and have made repeated efforts to persuade members to violate their pledge;

And believing that these agents have withheld and concealed facts from you, and that if these facts were brought to your notice you would at once correct them, the undersigned committee appointed in mass convention assembled at the court house in Hopkinsville, Ky., on Thursday, Nov. 14, 1907, which meeting represented a body of members from both organizations, hereby request you to instruct all your agents buying in this county not to further procure their membership to violate their contracts and pledges; and do further request that you surrender all such contracts back to said planters.

This notice is given in a spirit of fair dealing, and carries with it no implication or intention of threat or violence.

We believe you are, with few exceptions, a class of men who have the interests of our people at heart, at least are willing to give us a fair chance in the battle of life, and you will recognize the justice of this request.

Five of the committeemen with Geo. W. Barnes as spokesman then waited upon the buyers named and several others and presented the typewritten petition.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the clinical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing; therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its fullness and the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the complexities. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation and enjoyment, of contemplation and effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed to be the best of the natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Hopkinsville Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about Dr. Dan's Kidney Pills in Hopkinsville. There is plenty of positive proof of this. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

L. R. Woolfolk, 427 South Main Street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "I highly recommend Dr. Dan's Kidney Pills as being a reliable remedy for the kidneys. I have tested them thoroughly during the past two years and they do exactly what is claimed for them. I have had several attacks of backache during the past two years. Often when I sit down and went to get up, sharp twinges of pain caught me in the back. I also suffered in the morning so I was almost impaled for me to stoop over to put my shoes on. When these attacks were at their height, I was induced to try Dr. Dan's Kidney Pills through reading the statements of parties here in town. They gave me relief from the first and soon cured the attacks. Since then, whenever I feel any symptom of a recurrence, I resort to the use of Dr. Dan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed to ward off the trouble. When away on my trips, I carry a box with me, and I take a few doses now and then to keep the kidneys in good condition. Dr. Dan's Kidney Pills is the best kidney remedy I ever used, and I cheerfully give them my endorsement."

Causes of Gray Hair.

Methchnikoff, the famous bacteriologist, says the cause of grayness is the penetration into the hair of wandering cells, resembling the white blood corpuscles. These cells, assisted by other cells, the aggregation of which makes the hair, seize upon the granules of pigment and destroy them.

The Swimming Doll.

Even though the modern child has developed an extraordinary critical mood in regard to toyland, he can't find any fault with the newfangled swimming doll. With this fascinating plaything he doesn't have to make belief, for the doll can make wonderful speed with free and easy strokes across a pool or tub of water, and when tired out, can swim back again. The doll should be dressed in a blue silk swimming costume and is about nine inches long.

No more fascinating plaything has been seen in a long time than this mechanical toy, which is so cleverly constructed that it can pass the critical eyes of the "new" child, who is a born cynic, some one cruelly re-

The Right Way.

One Cause of Drowning.
Renewed attention has been called to the probable explanation of many cases of drowning that was some years ago advanced by Dr. Lowrie, a British physician, as a result of his own experience. After cycling on a hot day, he took a swim in a lake and was soon seized with headache, dizziness and drowsiness, while muscular effort, became feeble and sluggish. In many similar cases, he believes the swimmer loses consciousness—on account of the heat. If there is no help near, the result is another drowning accident, and the report of it will probably state that the victim "was seized with cramps and sank." Swimming in cold water is dangerous if the circulation is weakened from any cause, especially after a fast of several hours, or if there is any heart trouble.

Odd Cause of Thunder.
Thunder, just because it is a noise for which there is no visible cause, has always excited the imagination of the unscientific; so it is natural that the most outrageous superstitions about storms should date back to the time when man, if less or less, was unscientific. One old writer explains the belief of his day that a storm is said to follow presently when a company of bogies rung crying home," on the ground that a "bogie is most dull and of a melancholy nature, and so by reason don't foresee the rain when coming."

Leonard Digges, in his "Predicting and Forecasting" (1556), mentions that "thunder in the morning signifies wind; about noon, rain; and in the evening, a great tempest." Railway and Locomotive Engineer.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Floyd, almanac merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a Jimson burr into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. ### CHIMPANZEE HAD MUCH FUN.

Escaped from French Circus for Brief Spell of Liberty.

A large chimpanzee performing at a fair in Montmartre, France, escaped recently, and created a panic in the district. The animal gives his performance under the direction of La Goule, the Moulin Rouge dancer who took to lion taming and went through her marriage ceremony in a lion's den. Zizi, the chimpanzee, was evidently attracted elsewhere and made straight for the Metropolitan railway station at the Boulevard Barbès. Entering the booking office he nearly frightened the woman taking a check out of his pocket. He seized bundles of tickets, and amused himself by flinging them into the air and watching their descent in a shower. When he had thus made an end of several hundred packages he ran into the station, creating a panic among the waiting passengers. They fled across the lines and down the stairs into the street, and two policemen and six porters were summoned to try and capture Zizi. As soon as Zizi saw them coming he bolted down the steps, and was so anxious to escape his pursuers that he did not notice an approaching train. The driver pulled up in time to avoid killing the animal, and Zizi capered off on another line, and stopped a second train in the same way. After much chasing and dodging Zizi was eventually captured and put into a strait-waistcoat, and taken to the police station, where La Goule appeared and bailed him out early the next morning.

WHY HE DID NOT LAUGH.

Humorist's Sense of Modesty Kept Him Silent.

A certain well-known humorist recently attended a banquet at which he was seated beside a man who seemed to have almost a mania for story-telling. He began with the oysters and had at least one story for each course clear down to the Roquefort. The humorist sat silent, smiling, but not smiling or making any comment. Finally the story-teller noticed the fact that he was not eliciting any expressions of mirth, and, being one who was not at all afflicted with diffidence, he asked: "Say, old man, what's the matter with my story? Is there anything wrong with it? I have never seemed to appreciate your stories until you have to blame my modesty." "Your modesty? There's nothing about any of the stories I've told that ought to interfere with anybody's modesty." At least, I suppose, he was clean. "I have never heard of any of them, for heaven's sake tell me. I told nearly everyone of them to a lot of women the other night." "There's nothing at all the master with them. They're good, clean stories. Nevertheless, my modesty forbids me to laugh at them. I wrote them."

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn out and all run down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—MRS. CHAS. FL. ETOY, Moxo-Sup, Conn.

TIME TO ACT.

The assault made on John W. Wicks by masked outlaws Monday night, in the neighborhood where he was born and raised, is an outrage that must be prosecuted to the end of the law. Mr. Wicks is a man past the middle age of life, he is a good citizen, who has for many years been a tobacco buyer. It is his regular business and as long as there is tobacco on the market to sell, he has a right, legal and moral, to buy it. The election is over now and there is no longer any reason for delay in breaking up this era of lawlessness. These men were but thinly disguised. Even amateur detective work will disclose their identity. The governor in a general proclamation has offered a reward of $500 for each conviction. This should be made specific. County Judge Breathitt can also offer $200 in each case and a reward of $700 will bring them to punishment. There is already strong suspicion against certain parties living in that neighborhood. Mr. Wicks' presence was not known to the outlaws usually imported from other counties. His assailants were almost certainly local parties with a motive for the assault. Let County Attorney Duffy take vigorous steps. This outrage must be prosecuted and the prosecution carried to a success. The people of North Christian are a brave and fearless race. Many of them are descended from Revolutionary soldiers who crossed the mountains and settled more than a hundred years ago along the wooded streams of that section. They have never submitted to a reign of terror.

Sixty years ago an organized gang of outlaws tried it and came to grief and the leader dangled from a gallows. The law was slow and the people were forced to take the law into their own hands. Suspected parties were seized and forced to divulge their guilty knowledge to a band of Regulators who meant business. They gathered evidence and turned it over to the authorities and in this way peaceful conditions were restored that had lasted ever since. It is to be hoped that such a course will not be necessary this time.

THE DAY RIDERS.

The parade of farmers through the streets of Hopkinsville Thursday was a proceeding that appeared to be altogether unnecessary. The object aimed at, if the statements of the leaders who headed the movement are to be accepted as correct, was one based in a false hypothesis. At any rate the buyers of tobacco who were waited upon all vigorously denied that they were seeking to interfere in any way with existing contracts. They have gone so far as to make a definite offer to obligate themselves not to buy tobacco that has been pooled or pledged, coupled with a request that the organizations disownance any interference with the marketing of the crops of independent farmers. When pressed to do so, the committee were unable to give any instance where this policy of the buyers had been violated. It follows then that they sought to redress an imaginary grievance and their fiasco was an unnecessary diversion. So far as can be learned, the movement was without the authority of the ranking officers of either of the tobacco associations.

Mr. F. B. McCown, the local head of the Society of Equity, was in the city but did not "ride." Mr. W. W. Radford, chairman of the Dark Tobacco Association's committee, was not present and it is almost certain that the movement was without his knowledge or approval. Vice-Chairman Fowler attended the meeting and the belief is strong that his sensible, conservative speech counselling wisdom caused a material change in the original program. It follows then that the parade though harmless in its ending, was ill-advised and useless in its inception. It was a species of disregard of leadership and organization. It should never have been undertaken, if undertaken at all, until the leaders of the organizations had investigated the facts alleged and had been unsuccessful in their own efforts to obtain a satisfactory adjustment. Even then, the meeting could have been held without the parade, which served only to create the impression that intimidation was intended.

There have been a number of movements in the history of our country that caused only amusement in the end. In 1877 when Henry Watterson proposed that an army of 100,000 unarmed Democrats go to Washington to protest against the theft of the Presidency, he made himself the laughing stock of the whole country. Some years ago when Coxey's army of the unemployed marched to the capital, it was the universal opinion that Coxey failed to impress the country as being a man of good sense. In 1900 when Taylor's army of mountaineers paraded the streets of Frankfort, a feeling of bitterness was aroused that ended in a reign or terror. Only a few days ago, when an "Army of Peaceful Invasion" marched over the river counties, the movement was followed by a most unsettled condition of affairs.

In this city and county a perfectly satisfactory condition of affairs has been arrived at. Probably 80 per cent of the tobacco is in the association and the doors have been closed to the other 20 per cent. The buyers are paying less for these crops that the association's prices and are also counting upon buying more association tobacco than any other kind. They have taken all of the 1906 crop and are expecting to take the 1907 crop when it is put on the market. Then the folly of such parades is manifest from every standpoint. The invasion might have caused trouble through a misunderstanding of its purpose. Let us hope that more wisdom and discretion may be exercised in the future.

A complication has arisen by the defeat of J. W. Newman, a state senator for Commissioner of Agriculture. In anticipation of a vacancy, it appears that W. O. Davis, another Democrat, was elected to the place. Now Newman declines to resign as Senator, but announces that he will hold on.

HORSEMAN PARADE HERE

Imperial Co., was visited first. Mr. Conway told them that the "whereas" was based on a statement without any basis of fact, that his policy had been and would still be not to buy or receive any tobacco pooled prior to its purchase. The committee admitted that they knew of no case where his buyers had done this.

They then called on T. E. Fairleigh, of Tandy & Fairleigh. Mr. Fairleigh told them substantially what Mr. Conway had told them, telling them that he had told Judge Fowler some time ago that he did not intend to buy pooled tobacco, if he knew it and asked Judge Fowler if he didn't think it would be fair for the Association not to interfere with his buying tobacco not pooled and that could not now be put in the association. Judge Fowler had agreed that it would be. He then told the committee that he had not bought any pooled tobacco and did not intend to. He asked Mr. Barnes to name an instance. He mentioned two or three parties he said he had heard had been approached. Mr. Fairleigh told him that it was a mistake, as it was his settled policy not to interfere with association contracts and hoped they would not interfere with the independent farmers who had already sold or who might in the future sell crops to him. Mr. Barnes agreed to this.

All the other buyers waited upon assured them of a similar purpose in buying. At all of the places visited the committee were courteously received and they appeared pleased with the results of their visits.

The riders all left for their homes about four o'clock.

There were rumors that other bodies of men would meet them here, but it was altogether a local movement from one part of the country.

The invasion created no excitement. The only change in the regular order of things was that the mayor ordered the night police on duty at noon.

DEATH NEAR SALEM

Miss Garrett Passes Away
After Long Illness.

Miss Hattie Garrett, daughter of Mr. E. H. Garrett, who resides a few miles south of Pembroke, died Tuesday, aged about 30 years. She had been ill for several months. She was a member of Salem Baptist church. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. L. Baker at the residence Wednesday and the interment took place in the family burying ground.

OPEN SEASON.

Birds Reported Plentiful All Over the Country.

The quail shooting season opened Saturday and will last until Jan. 1. A large number of sportmen from the city spent the day in the fields and hundreds of birds were bagged. Many farmers have been posted with signs forbidding trespassing by the hunters and unless nimrods are successful in securing permission of the farmers their sport will be greatly restricted. The sportmen should bear in mind that quail and other game birds must not be killed for commercial purposes or the market. It is not permissible to sell or buy quail or other game birds or to transport them for purpose of sale. Quail are reported plentiful in many sections.

TOBACCO BURNED

Contained 7,000 Pounds of Tobacco.

Owenton, Ky., Nov. 12.—The large tobacco barn of T. T. Volland, one of the most prominent farmers in Owen county, was burned to the ground at 7 o'clock this morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been incendiary. The barn contained 7,000 pounds of tobacco on the stick and this year's crop and fifteen hogheads of last year's crop. The tobacco of the 1907 crop had been pledged to the Burley Growers' association, but the tobacco in the hogheads had not been pledged. The loss is about $2,500 with $1,500 insurance.

50-YEAR-OLD SMITHY

Omission of Signature May Deprive Navy of Recruit.

Among the many curious and interesting letters, written in varying chirography, received at the Louisville naval recruiting office each week none, is more unique than this one, received from a Lexington, Ky., blacksmith this week.

The letter says: "I see you want mechanics for the navy. I am a general blacksmith. My age wont cut no figure. I am only fifty years old, I am sound as a dollar. I always have good health. I can run and jump with any man. I am sober and study, which you will find out."

Unfortunately this promising buddington is destined to fade and waste his blacksmith's sweetness on the desert air of Lexington, as the communication has no signature.

Anyway, Naval Recruiting Officer Gibon says that all the government "sea horses" have already been shot.

FOR SIXTY YEARS

Woman Masqueraded as Man,
30 Years as a Husband.

Trinidad, Col., Nov. 12.—Miss Catherine Vosburgh, who for nearly 30 years passed as a man, died at a hospital in this city today.

She was born in France 83 years ago. When a young woman she found it difficult to make her way on account of her sex and adopted men's clothes. In St. Joseph she married a woman, with whom she lived for thirty years. The woman had got into trouble and "Charles Vosburgh" married her to protect her. The two women still masqueraded as man and wife came to Trinidad two years ago.

New York, Nov. 13.—Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou arrived in town tonight and at once set at rest the Wall street rumor that he had decided presently to call upon the national banks of the country for 10 per cent of their government deposits.

"Of course," said the secretary, "I have done nothing of the sort." Then he added:

"This is no time to deal in rumors, especially as to the actions of the secretary of the treasury."

Secretary Cortelyou is here to address the Merchants Association at the annual meeting of that body tomorrow. It is expected that he then will have something to say on the financial situation. Tonight he would not be quoted.

WEIGHED 7 POUNDS

Man's Heart Removed by His Dying Request.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 13.—Carrying out the dying request of her husband, Mrs. George J. Feindell gazed upon the heart of her husband after it had been taken from the body. The heart taken from George J. Feindell, who died Monday at Bonoxi, Miss., had grown to abnormal size, weighing seven pounds after being taken from the body. In the opinion of prominent physicians in the city, the heart was one of the largest ever known. The average weight of the human heart is one and one-half pounds.

The apparently strange request of the dead man was made as he believed he would die of heart trouble and thought there was something wrong with that organ. Mrs. Feindell and her husband lived at West End, near Birmingham.

BIG LOTTERY

Arrests Made in Several Cities and More to Follow.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A morning paper today says: The biggest lottery in operation in the United States, which has been running for more than twenty years with headquarters in Chicago, is claimed to have been exposed last night by arrests in this and other cities of the country. The United States secret service men claim that the promoters of the scheme have made millions of dollars and that there are big men behind it who will be reached through the prosecution of the men now under arrest.

Under the name of the Old Reliable Guaranty Loan & Trust company, it is alleged the lottery maintained three luxuriously furnished offices in Chicago. D. H. Jones alias D. H. Kissam, who has lived in very expensive style, is the head of the concern. John E. Minor was arrested as a partner. Minor claimed to be in the real estate business.

Warrants were issued for Miss Cora Green, the confidential secretary of Jones, and Walter Schimsky, the bookkeeper at the local headquarters and they were arraigned before United States Commissioner Mark Foote.

George E. Geisler, the St. Louis agent of the concern, was arrested in that city, and a large number of lottery tickets and records confiscated. Charles and Royal Hammer were arrested at Indianapolis.

An attempt will also be made to involve the express companies all over the country as agents or accomplices under the act of 1895, forbidding the operation of lotteries.

Commissioner Foote held Jones without bail. Jones is more than seventy years old and very feeble.

MINISTERS SPEAK

Of the Departure of Dr. Lyon
For Another Field.

The following is an expression of the Ministerial association, at a recent meeting, regarding the removal of Dr. A. P. Lyon to Elizabethtown:

An explanation is necessary for the apparent tardiness of these resolutions. The association did not renew its sessions promptly after the vacation season, which was closely followed by the unsettled conditions incident to pulpit changes, one of which was the transfer of Brother Lyon from the pastorate of the Methodist church to the office of presiding elder of the Elizabethtown district and a consequent change of residence to Elizabethtown. It is not too late, however, for the community he has left, and the people to whom he goes, to know that we appreciate him and sincerely regret that we are deprived of his companionship as a co-laborer, of the wisdom of his counsel as president, of his personality as a friend.

While we have no intention of heaping up formal words or constructing studied sentences, we do desire to express our attitude toward our brother Lyon and his family, and to say a few affectionate, tender things of sincere appreciation, a fervent "God bless you," with ten fold more which find no expression, while we wish him Godspeed in his new home and among his arduous labors.

EDWARD H. BULL,
Secretary.

THREE BROTHERS FORM LEAGUE

To Intimidate And Injure
Beverly Caudle This Fall.

YOUNGEST BUT FIFTEEN.
One in Jail, One in Evansville, Another in Jail.

George, John and Otho Armstrong got themselves into trouble when the Hagenback show was here early in the fall. A man by the name of Beverly Caudle swore out a warrant against the three brothers charging them with having banded themselves together for the purpose of intimidating and injuring him.

Warrants were issued, we learn, and the Armstrongs were arrested and brought before Judge Breathitt, who recognized them to appear in court on the Friday following their arrest. George went to Evansville, where he is supposed to be at this time. John finally stood trial and was acquitted. Otho was before Judge Breathitt Thursday. He was sent to jail to await his trial at some time soon to be determined by the court.

The charge upon which the three brothers were arrested is a very unusual one. George and John are grown, but Otho is only 15 years of age. They are sons of Charles M. Armstrong, a machinist, who at one time was part owner of a machine shop here, but left here and went to another city.

TOBACCO BARN BURNS

Loss of $1,000 Caused by Fire in Daviess County, and Fund Raised to Prosecute Lawlessness.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 14.—Fire Tuesday night destroyed a big tobacco barn on the farm of Dave and V. M. Vowell in the West Louisville neighborhood of Daviess county burning 7,000 pounds of tobacco and causing a loss of $1,000, with insurance amounting to only $100. Last year the Vowell pooled their tobacco but had not done so this year. At a meeting of the Daviess County Farmers' Mutual association yesterday it was announced that a fund of $1,000 had been raised to run down and prosecute the authors of any lawlessness in this county.

CREDIT MEN

9,000 in Number, Express
Confidence in Conditions.

Indianapolis, Nov. 13.—The directors of the National Association of Credit Men, the largest commercial organization in the United States with a membership of 9,000 met here and affirmed the implicit faith of the organization in the commercial integrity of the nation, and in the business principles on which the affairs of the mercantile community are conducted. The following resolutions were adopted:

"Be it therefore resolved, That from trustworthy trade and financial information received from every section of the country, the association unhesitatingly declares general business conditions to be fundamentally sound, and believes the present financial disturbance notwithstanding the stringency of the currency will be of short duration."

BANK CASHIER

Confessed Having Used $16,- 000 of Bank's Money.

Foster, Ky., Nov. 14.—Daniel McMath, cashier of the Foster (Deposit) Bank, is in jail at Brookville, a self-confessed defaulter for $16,000. Trembling like an aspen and apparently on the verge of complete collapse, McMath staggered into the chamber of County Judge Bradford, at Brookville, and pleaded that he be placed under arrest.

"For what reason?" asked Judge Bradford.

"I have ruined the bank and I'll go mad and kill myself if I am not locked up," replied the wretched man. Then he sank into a chair.

The Judge called the Sheriff and a few minutes later the bank cashier was sobbing pitifully in a cell in the county jail. McMath waived examination this morning and was held to the grand jury. He could not furnish bail.

WHY LEFT OFF

of "In God We Trust."

Washington, Nov. 13.—In answer to one of the numerous protests that have been received at the White House against the new gold pieces which have been coined without the words "In God We Trust," President Roosevelt has written a letter, which he today made public. He says:

"When the question of the new coin came up, we looked into the law and found there was no warrant therein for putting "In God We Trust" on the coins. As the custom, although without legal warrant, had grown up, however, I might have felt the liberty to keep the inscription had I approved of its being on the coinage. But as I did not approve of it, I did not direct that it should be again put on. Of course, the law is absolutely in the hands of Congress, and any direction of Congress in the matter will be immediately obeyed. At present, as I have said, there is no warrant in the law for the inscription."

"My own feeling in the matter is due to my very firm conviction that to put such a motto on coins, or to use it in any kindred manner, not only does no good, but does positive harm and is in effect irreverence, which comes dangerously near to sacrilege. A beautiful and solemn sentence such as the one in question should be treated and uttered with only that fine reverence which necessarily implies a certain exaltation of spirit."

THE TRAVELER

Our Tax System Has Increased His Burden.

Figures That Show Farm Property Pays More Than Its Fair Proportion of State Revenue.

When the last constitutional convention in Kentucky drew up the present organic law of the state, it found existing throughout the state a general feeling or dissatisfaction, because through the faulty administration of the old revenue law one exemption after another had crept in until the system was full of inequalities. The convention, however, in perfecting a tax system which, it believed, would provide absolute uniformity in the burden of taxes, it therefore, inserted in the constitution section 171, which says that taxes shall be uniform upon all classes of property within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax. This was done in the belief that uniformity of method would produce a uniformity of result and of burden.

It was urged in behalf of this proposed section that it was demanded by justice to the farmer, in order that, since his property was of a visible and tangible nature and could not escape assessment, all other property should be taxed uniformly.

No one ever disputed that this ought to be done. The only dispute was as to whether or not it could be done by this method. It was contended that certain classes of property, which were of a kind that could be concealed, would escape assessment and taxation.

The California system here denounced is the same that we have in Kentucky, and from which the legislature can afford us no relief without a change of the constitution.

These two states are included, and a small percentage of this character of property paid in by counties and cities, larger towns and government corporations. These are under, rather than over, the tax. Farm property, therefore, by a conservative estimate, pays nearly 53 per cent of the state taxes exclusive of franchises taxes, while town property pays only 47 per cent. Of the state revenue collected by the auditor of the state from assessors' lists, 43 per cent is paid by farm lands, 34 per cent by town lots, about 9 per cent by money and securities, about 7½ per cent by personal property, 6 per cent by franchises, etc., and 6 per cent by other personalty. It is this the Kentucky farmer realized that the present farmer bears heavily upon him.

Equivalent to 10 Per Cent Income Tax.

The tax commission of the state of California had this to say about the operation of the new property tax on farmers in that state:

"The taxes paid by farmers in California are equivalent to an income tax of 10 per cent. This is in contrast to many other industries; for example, taxes paid by manufacturers, which amount is 2 per cent of income. The persons engaged in agriculture, with an average yearly income of about $600, pay $50 per capita per annum in taxes. The persons engaged in manufactures, with an average yearly income of $1870, pay $175 per capita per annum."

The California system here denounced is the same that we have in Kentucky, and from which the legislature can afford us no relief without a change of the constitution.

FARMERS IN MANY STATES WANT RELIEF FROM UNFAIR TAXATION.

Constitutional amendments are being given thorough attention by farmers of the country. In Ohio, Hon. E. Dertick, master of the State Grange, in discussing a proposition to permit of classification of the source of tax revenue, said:

"There is a common ground upon which we can stand. We must admit, however, that it has not been arrived at without some difficulty, and that means a more just revenue for the property in the state. Where is the injustice of laying a reasonable tax on the deposits reported by the banks of the state, the same to be charged to depositors? True, not all depositors are residents of Ohio, but those who are are entitled to protection of our laws and in large measure draw their interest from people."

"This could, at least, be done with resident depositors and they would be relieved from the temptation to commit the crime of perjury."

The Kentucky Grange.

The Kentucky State Grange had this same subject before it at the meeting held in Frankfort October 21 to 23, 1907. Mr. F. P. Wolcott, Master of the State Grange, discussed the question in a very interesting manner, as follows:

"The order has been most active in behalf of the just regulation of taxation, recognizing that the farmer is losing more from our present system than any other class of citizens. The order in representing the agricultural class, always endeavours to be fair and honorable with all other interests, and has the right to demand like treatment in return. In nearly every state in the Union the cry has been loud against unjust revenue laws, and steps are being taken to remedy the evil."

"Various State Granges have, by their action, declared it wrong to legislate into the organic laws of a state any provision which shall exempt tax on property aggregating less than $1000. In the possession of wealth, and often kept by them invisible, thus leaving the small holding masses of people of moderate means to bear the burden of doubled taxation."

"The present constitution of Kentucky binds us to the general property tax, but the order is in favor of levying the same tax upon all classes of property for all purposes. There should be an amendment to our constitution which will allow the legislature to separate the sources of revenue and to raise the state revenue from certain classes of property, leaving other classes of property to be taxed for local purposes only."

"It has been argued by some that this would throw too much power into the hands of the legislature. Should such an amendment prevail, then would it do well to make the voters of the state to pay strict attention to the selection of their representatives who has obtained in the past in both city and country."

"The Kentucky State Development Association and other organizations have been urging by placing upon its joint committee resolution, a member of this order as representative of the agricultural interests of the state, and it is important that the views and demands of the farmers be clearly defined at this state session. It is recommended that this body promptly and emphatically take action in favor of just and equitable revenue laws, and for the establishment of an official tax commission, to be composed of five members—four representing respectively the great industries, agriculture, manufacture, mining and commerce, and a fifth member, noted for the highest integrity and for superior legal ability."

Who Pays the Freight?

There is still another way of ascertaining that the present system does not make things easier for the farmer. For the year 1906 the assessment of the state divided itself as follows:

Per Cent
Farm lands .....	43
Farmers' personally (live stock, implements, etc.) .....	7.1
Total money, etc., assessed to farmers .....	2.6

Total for farmers ..... $2.7

Town lots ..... 32.5

Town personally ..... 14.8

Total town property ..... 47.1

In arriving at the percentages of money, etc., set down as given in by farmers for taxation, only that given entails a loss of more than $1,000.

ANOTHER NIGHT WITH WARDE

Conflict of Dates Permits His Stopover Here Longer.

WHAT WILL IT BE?

Manager of Tabernacle Puts Prices to Bottom, Large Crowd Expected.

Everything yesterday indicated that Frederick Warde would be greeted with an unusually large crowd at the tabernacle last night. Mr. Warde deserves everything predicted for him. No man on the platform excels him in his line. Hopkinsville's literati can appreciate Mr. Warde to the utmost and the second night with him at the tabernacle will prove one of the most enjoyable of the entire season.

Having already sold about 40 instruments in Christian county enables us to give you all reference necessary as to the satisfaction our piano give. Kindly give us a call, whether you intend buying or not.

Respectfully,
R. E. QUALLS MUSIC CO.
(G. O. Gregory, Representing.)

It was impossible to learn yesterday what part of Shakespeare Mr. Warde would handle the first night, but had it been left to those who went to hear him no doubt a large majority of them would have expressed preference for "Hamlet." Should he have made his evening's selection without consulting the wishes of our people, which is hardly reasonable to suppose and omitted "Hamlet," no doubt he will accede to the populace, "put on Hamlet" tonight.

Let it not be forgotten that this is written in advance of either of Mr. Warde's lectures. It is rarely, 'tis true, and pity, 'tis true, that men of Mr. Warde's talent, especially in his line of work, visit our city, but he can rest assured that he will nowhere find a more appreciative audience. There are many readers of Shakespeare in our city, among them the Shakespeare club, and all will be glad that they have had opportunities to test the genius of the greatest living exponent of the poet and dramatist. General admission to-night 50c. Seats can be reserved for 25c additional.

Dr. Jenkens' Lecture.

Dr. Millard A. Jenkens, of Hopkinsville, delivered his lecture, "The Winners," at the Cumberland Presbyterian church here Friday night, under the auspices of the Library Committee. Dr. Jenkens is a most pleasing speaker, and those who heard his lecture enjoyed it immensely. It is seldom Pembroke people are privileged to hear such an entertaining speaker, and it is unfortunate that more of them did not embrace the opportunity—Pembroke Journal.

Stephens and Linton's great company of fun makers will be at Holland's Opera House Thursday night, next, Nov. 28, in the ever-welcome musical comedy "My Wife's Family." People who go to hear good jokes and enjoy a hearty laugh will get all they wish for in huge chunks of mirth-provoking antics on the occasion of the company's visit to this city. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

"My Wife's Family," which is the offering at the Grand, is a farce comedy with music presented by a very clever company, who kept the audience uproariously amused."
